WAS HE A DISGUISED DETECTIVE

Man Who Posed as Photographer Suspected of Having Other Business

MYSTERY IN MOVEMENTS

Was He an Agent of the North Shore Law and Order League, or Was He Looking for Some Criminal

For the past two weeks or so, Antioch has seen much of a man with a camera, who seemed to all intent and purposes deeply interested in procuring views of our little village, from each and every standpoint. He arrived in town in the usual manner, put up at the Simons house, gave his name as W. F. Turner, and stated that his business was acting as a photographer for the Wisconsin Central railroad. Immediately after his arrival he shouldered his camera and started out. In the course of time he had taken views of our churches, school, streets, public buildings, business places, and in fact anything and everything that appealed to his fancy.

During the latter week of his stay cards were distributed throughout the town announcing that on the following day he would proceed from house to house for the purpose of taking a picture of each residence in the town, these cards also requested that all members of each family be prepared to have their pictures taken outside their residence, if they so desired, thus causing him no delay, which would be much appreciated by him. When the pictures were finished, and good ones they were, he again made a trip from house to house, exhibiting the picture and leaving it to the alternative of the resident to purchase, or not, which in most cases they were glad to do. On Thursday evening last, he to all appearances having completed his work, packed his camera and left town in the same quiet manner in which he had entered it.

But while he was here industriously working as a photographer, it is alleged he had a far more important motive for being about town and that at the same time he was to all appearances making a business of photography, he was also deeply absorbed in ferreting out more interesting matters, in fact it is now claimed that his real business was acting as a detective, and if this is a fact, so clever indeed was the deception that few would ever have guessed his secret. Just how the matter leaked out we are unable to state, and for just what reason his services were placed here cannot at this time be ascertained.

Mr. Turner is a bright, active young man and we are confident that whatever his motives here may have been, he was not one to leave without accomplishing his purpose, were such a thing possible.

Opinions differ widely as to his motive, some claim that they believe him employed by the North Shore Law and Order League to investigate the conditions in our town. Others think that he was on the track of some criminal whom he believed to be hiding in our locality, and a few are of the opinion that he was running down a crew that would lead to the solution of some mysterious happening which has been all but forgotten in the rush of more recent events. His incentive may always remain a mystery to us, but if as rumor states, he was a detective in disguise, (and we believe that in this case rumor has good foundation for its story) it may be that through his efforts while here the stains of guilt may be removed from some innocent person, or some, so far free, guilty party be brought to justice.

PATTERSON'S BID ON NAVAL SCHOOL WORK ACCEPTED

All bids for officers' quarters at the naval training station at Lake Bluff near North Chicago, were rejected Monday. All these bids exceeded the architect's estimates and were considered excessive. It is thought that lower bids can be obtained and a second advertising will probably be ordered in a few days.

The bid of Henry C. Patterson of Waukegan, to construct the necessary water mains at the training grounds was accepted. He offered to do the work for $6,800, and was the lowest bidder.

Navy Department officials are now trying to work out a plan under which some of the bids for the construction of service buildings at the training grounds can be accepted. Some of these bids are considered reasonable, and if possible the offer will be accepted and work commenced.

WILL HAVE A POW-WOW

Colonel Vidvard Plans Most Novel Event at His Grass Lake Hotel

Lake county is to have a real Indian Pow-wow this summer and the Waukegan Elks are to take part in it. They are not to take the part of Indians but they are to be invited to the pow-wow for the purpose of seeing how real Indians conduct one of these stunts.

It is recalled that there are several mounds at Grass Lake where Indian Chiefs are buried and, in years past, the Indians used to make pilgrimages there and hold Pow-wows in honor of their departed leaders.

Colonel Vidvard, who owns the large hotel at Grass Lake, has decided to have another Pow-wow within a few weeks and he is now making arrangements toward that end.

He is to invite the band of Indians there from Winnipeg and they have expressed a desire to think that they will be able to come.

They will be there several days and will have one of the biggest Pow-wows they have held in years. The chiefs who are buried there were among the leading chiefs of the earlier days, hence their resting place is held very sacred by the Indians.

The idea of inviting the Waukegan Elks to the pow-wow is original with Colonel Vidvard and he expects to give the Waukegan men the time of their lives.

Sagamwifuharf, the great Medicine Man, will accompany the pack.

NEW GUN CLUB OPENED

E. Dunnell of Fox Lake Wins Honors at Chicago Gun Club Contest

Members of the Chicago Gun Club opened their new clubhouse and grounds Saturday afternoon with a house warming and three target contests, the feature being the board of trade challenge cup shoot. The match was won by W. T. Garrett from a field of sixty-eight, he making 44 out of 50 targets from the eighteen yard line.

The first shoot, which formally opened the club's season, was a twenty-five-target affair, at eighteen yards' rise, which was won by Clemson, who broke 24. L. C. Willard and E. Dunnell were next in line with 23.

Mr. Dunnell is a well known Lake county boy, living at Fox Lake, and has long been recognized as one of the best shots around here and his many friends are offering congratulations.

ROUND LAKE BOTTLING PLANT DOING BIG BUSINESS

The bottling plant of the Forest Glen Creamery company has been running without a hitch since February, when the machinery costing $10,000 installed by the Creamery Package Manufacturing company was completed. The present output of the plant is shipped daily after being clarified and packed in home-made ice, two refrigerator cars being required.

They have an ice machine with a capacity of freezing three tons of ice per day, besides cooling all milk and a large storage room. A separate engine is being installed for electric light and it is hoped that in the near future the firm will supply the village of Round Lake with electric light.

Fifty-one new contracts have lately been secured, and as the price paid averages a little better than any other bottling plant, a general feeling of satisfaction prevails. At present about 18,000 pounds of milk are received in about an hour's time and all patrons' cans are washed and steamed immediately.

Mr. Jung is busy at work with a force of his assistants to beautify Forest Glen park, which is hoped will be one of the attractions of Round Lake. Shade trees are being planted all around the square and fruit trees are scattered promiscuously over the premises. Sod will be cut by horse power and there is every reason to believe that the elevated drive will soon be covered with sod.

1,000,000 PIKE CONSIGNMENT FOR PISTAKEE BAY

John F. Haas, county clerk of Cook county was at Springfield last week and while there he succeeded in getting an important contribution to the lakes of Lake county.

He secured 1,000,000 small pike which are to be shipped to Pistakee Bay this week and Mr. Haas has promised to look after the release of the fishy tribe personally. He has a fine home on the bay, and is therefore much interested in the fishing in that locality.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF CRUELTY

William A. Curtis Alleged to Have Cruelly Beaten Ten Year Old Girl

LASHED HER WITH ROPE

The Child, Whose Mother is Dead, Had Been Making Her Home With The Curtis Family for Two Years

William A. Curtis, a Milwaukee road farmer and former supervisor, was late Monday afternoon arrested by Sheriff Griffin on a warrant charging him with having beaten Edna Anderson, a ten year old child, black and blue with a rope's end.

Taking the child from her bed at five Saturday morning, Curtis, who had her in charge, is alleged to have bent her over a chair and lashed her with a rope until she was a black and blue mass of quivering flesh.

This, it is reported by the father of the girl, A. C. Anderson, a laborer of Winthrop Harbor, was to prevent her from telling of previous alleged beatings she had received.

Two years or more ago Anderson's wife died and left him with five children of whom Edna was the youngest.

He placed the children with different neighbors, and Edna was taken in and given a home by the Curtis family, the father stated to Justice Weiss, of Waukegan.

She has, therefore, been there for about two years.

Tuesday the Curtis family is alleged to have sent to Anderson asking him to call for the little girl, and to cover up alleged cruel treatment of the girl previously, it is alleged by Anderson that the lashing of Saturday was inflicted.

Edna Anderson is a small child for her age, weak, puny, and seemingly ill-natured, and when she, at her father's command, showed marks of the alleged beating to States Attorney Hanna and officers, one gasp of horror and anger arose.

According to the story that the child told her father and that he in turn told States Attorney Hanna, Curtis made her get up from sleep at five in the morning, attend to household chores which included washing the dishes at this unearthly hour and making the beds, and then traump a mile and a half in all kinds of weather to school.

Often, the child informed her infuriated father, was she beaten by Curtis for alleged disobedience or for lack of speed in performing her tasks.

LATE SEASON CAUSES FARMERS TO WORRY

The farmers throughout the county are predicting a hard year. Small grains have been sown in many instances and the chilled seeds are rotting in the ground. Many fields of oats planted during the warm weather of March have been refilled and will be resown.

It is nearly time to plant corn and few fields are ready. Pastures are backward. The general time for turning cattle out to pasture is from the first to the tenth of May. The fields that in March were promising and green are frost bitten and dead. The season is nearly a month backward.

Many fruit buds began to swell a month ago. In these the past three or four weeks have remained dormant. It is feared the fruit crop has received a permanent injury which it will be unable to overcome this year.

All in all this spring will go down in history as the hardest that Lake county has witnessed in the memory of the oldest inhabitant and the end seemingly is not yet.

All the Particulars.

French gendarmes sent in the following report to his superior officer recently: "The undersigned declares that at ten o'clock in the morning he passed in such a street and saw two women and two men in a shop occupied in breaking glasses, the two women by the hair of their heads and the two men by the scruff of their necks, and of which one had a broomstick, which was the master of the shop and which affair the undersigned has nothing to say and knows nothing about it."

WILL SUE EDITOR FOR LIBEL

Because He Alleges that the Zion City News Called Him a Scallawag

Ever since the first appearance of the "Zion City News," the General Overseer has been after it with the intention of putting it down and out. The first shot in the battle against the paper of the receiver was a boycott order for all the faithful to take hold of. The editor in his turn ignored the General Overseer as much as possible notwithstanding the fact that he was the recognized head of the church.

Volvin claimed that, although the Chicago papers saw fit to make lengthy mentions of his sermons in their columns, the Zion City News gave but a three or four line mention of the same, and has now decided that his sermons shall appear in print if he has to print them himself.

Volvin and a few faithful followers have succeeded in raising sufficient funds for starting a newspaper of their own to be known as the "Zion City Herald." At present he is somewhat "pushed" to find a place to install his new plant, but is confident that he will soon be in possession of suitable quarters.

Because he alleges that the editor of the Zion News called him a scallawag, Volvin threatens to sue the newspaper man for $1,000. Wednesday Volvin issued his own newspaper, the Herald.

GETS THE BRISTOL PLANT

Borden Condensed Milk Company Purchases the Bristol Creamery

A deal was closed last week by which the Borden Condensed Milk Company of Chicago, purchased the property of the Farmers' Bristol creamery and the Chicago company will take possession of the plant at Bristol at once. It will be converted into a bottling plant and will be one of the largest plants owned by the Borden company.

For some time several of the Chicago milk companies have been attempting to get into Bristol on account of the large number of dairies in that neighborhood. The Borden company is reported to have paid a big price for the creamery and the good will of the company in order to get possession. The company will at once begin an enlargement of the plant and will put it in first class condition.

WILLIE COON WILL START FROG FARM

Prairie View is about to have an infant industry according to a rumor which comes from that place. The infant industry is the rearing of frogs, infant frogs. Willie Coon, an embryo magnate, discovered a bunch of something "queer" in the bed of Indian creek while fishing for bull heads a few days ago.

He took home some of the funny stuff and called a convulsion of sages. The "queer" was diagnosed as frog's eggs by those holding the consultation and immediately the idea of a frog farm received a strong incentive in the fertile brain of Willie.

If the cold weather of the recent days has not blighted his crop he will produce enough croakers to supply the western hemisphere or less. It is rumored that he anticipates selling the hops which he will get from his frogs to a large brewing concern. It is hoped he will not spend his green backs before his frogs are hatched however.

AGED WOMAN IS OVERCOME BY COAL GAS

Mrs. Margaret Lynch of Libertyville, who is about seventy years of age, was unconscious for about three hours after being discovered by her son John Sunday morning.

She was overcome with gas from a heating stove. How long she was unconscious altogether is not known, though probably it was a much longer time.

Upon arising Sunday morning Mr. Lynch went down stairs. It was then about seven o'clock. He found the lower rooms so full of gas that it was with difficulty that he got the doors and windows open. Then at once he sought his mother's bedroom and found her unconscious.

He summoned two physicians, Drs. Taylor and Galloway, who worked the greater part of the forenoon before they pronounced her in any measure out of danger. Owing to her advanced age the effects of the deadly gas gave the physicians grave fears.

New York's "Picture Lane."

Fifth avenue, New York, is sometimes spoken of in art circles as "picture lane," because of the numerous dealers' galleries there or in the side streets just off the avenue. Art, however, is not limited to any one of the city's thoroughfares. Fourth avenue has its share of galleries, and they also are to be found west of Fifth avenue and uptown.

WIDOW GETS $3,000,000

Testator Enriches Evanston Relatives, Two Nephews, St. Luke's Hospital and Faithful Servants.

To his valet, John Piggott, $5,000.

To his coachmen, John Kehoe and William Davis, each $1,000.

To the Orthopaedic hospital of New York $100,000.

The executors also are directed to hold all the residuary estate as trustees in trust for children, who being sons or a son attain the age of 21, or being daughters or a daughter attain that age or marry, and if no child lives to attain a vested interest the testator gives one-third thereof to his nephew, William Mason, and two-thirds to his nephew, George Grant Mason, absolutely.

In case any child of the testator lives to attain a vested interest in the residuary estate he gives $250,000 to William Smith Mason and $500,000 to Geo. Grant Mason.

WAUKEGAN LACE FACTORY

Machinery for the Plant Has Been Ordered from Beeston Nottingham, England

Machines for the Waukegan Lace Manufacturing Company plant were ordered last week of a Beeston, Nottingham, England machine shop according to the proceedings of that corporation at a recent meeting of the directors.

The machinery will be built especially for the proposed Waukegan manufactory for turning out lace curtains and each will represent with accessory machinery and equipment an investment of $9,000 or $15,000 altogether.

The five or six machines ordered will consume some months in construction and meantime there are no building plans for the plant until announcement is received that the machines are completed.

Many sites have already been offered the directors and stock holders of the Waukegan fostered corporation, four of which are being considered.

However fair assurance is given that the plant will indeed be located in Waukegan.

THE CANADA THISTLE

A Marengo, Illinois, Man Finds a Way to Destroy Them—Test is Successful

Every farmer who has had any experience with Canada thistles will hail with delight the news that C. W. Chafee of Marengo, Ill., who has spent much time and money in trying to exterminate these noxious weeds growing on his farm, has succeeded in making a chemical compound which, when applied to a plant, begins a chemical action at once and in a short time the plant and roots will be dissolved. That is, the oxygen and carbon in the plant and roots will be separated by pure chemical action and the life force of the plant will pass off in gases, leaving nothing but a decayed lot of roots and plants.

Mr. Chafee has given this weed exterminator a thorough trial test and has called the attention of several farmers to it, who are willing to recommend it in the highest terms. The test he made was on a patch of Canada thistles of about three rods square, where they were a solid mass of thrifty plants in the spring of 1906. He mowed the tops and raked them off, then applied the exterminator with a common hand sprinker to the stubble and in about eight weeks he made the second application. Several people have been to Mr. Chafee's farm and made a thoro examination with the spade, but found no live roots, the roots being decayed.

Mr. Chafee made a test on some quack grass and morning glories late in the season, which proved very satisfactory. Anyone who is bothered with these pests should write Mr. Chafee at Marengo, Ill., enclosing a two cent stamp for further information and prices.

Anyone who has thistles or other noxious weeds cannot afford to let them go and run the risk of seeding his whole farm or those of his neighbors, when at a little trouble they can be destroyed, root and branch, in a single season.

JUSTICE RESIDENT REITERATES STAND IN STEUNENBERG CASE. REPLY TO GOTHAM UNION

Quotes from His Communication to the Attorney General Last Year—Committee Was Satisfied.

New York.—President Roosevelt has written another letter on the Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone case, this time to the Central Federated union, to which it was read Sunday. In it he promises that if evidence is submitted to him showing that there has been a miscarriage of justice, he will bring such evidence to the attention of the attorney general for such action, if any, as it may be in the power of the federal authorities to take.

The communication was the formal reply of the president to the committee of the union which recently called upon the president in Washington and requested him to set forth in general his attitude toward the accused men, and specifically why he had referred to Moyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens."

His Reply in Full.

The president's letter follows: "The White House, Washington, May 2, '07.

"My Dear Mr. Henry—When you, in company with Messrs. Conkley and Brown called upon me this morning I read you the letter I had written to the attorney general on March 25, 1906. At your request I gladly send you the following extract from that letter:

"Our duty is (if it should ever happen that we had any power in the matter) to see that exact justice is done these men. There must be no condonation of lawlessness on our part, even if the lawlessness takes the form of an effort to avenge the wrongs committed by the lawlessness of others. The sole questions as regards Haywood and Moyer must be the question whether or not they can be shown to be guilty of this particular act, and their legal rights must be as carefully safeguarded as those of any other men.

"It is alleged that they were extradited from Colorado in a manner that amounted to a betrayal of their legal rights. I should like to have the district attorney of Colorado, and, if necessary, the district attorney of Idaho, give me such information as they can on this point. I should like to get from the district attorney of Idaho any information that he can obtain as to whether or not there has been the slightest disposition shown by the authorities in Idaho to act toward these men in an unfair or improper manner, or to deny them their legal rights. On the other hand I should like to know whether there is any symptom of a miscarriage of justice in their favor.

Promises Full Legal Rights.

"The intemperate violence with which the socialist or labor papers, like that of Debs, and I am sorry to say some labor organizations, have insisted without any knowledge of the facts upon treating these men as martyrs to the cause of labor has unquestionably resulted in tremendous pressure being brought to bear upon the authorities of Idaho to discharge or acquit them, whether guilty or innocent. So far as the unions are anxious only to see that exact justice is done these men; that they are given their full legal rights and not condemned unless proved guilty of this specific act, they are entitled to the cordial cooperation of all just and fair-minded citizens."

"In response to your question, it is, I trust, needless for me to say that if at any time you or anyone else can submit to me any evidence showing that there has been a miscarriage of justice for or against Messrs. Moyer or Haywood, which you believe it is in my power to remedy, I will at once bring such evidence to the attention of the attorney general to have him give it the fullest consideration and to take thereon such action, if any, as it may be in the power of the federal authorities to take. Sincerely yours, Theodore Roosevelt."

Committee Was Satisfied.

In the discussion that followed a motion to accept the committee's report a delegate charged that the president had evaded the issue. This called forth a response from Delegate Conkley. The latter said that the committee considered the interview satisfactory and that it was "not up to the president to prove that there had been a miscarriage of justice, but to those defending Moyer and Haywood."

After several delegates had been heard it was decided to forward a copy of the letter to counsel for the indicted Idaho labor leaders and let them submit to President Roosevelt any evidence they might have that there had been a miscarriage of justice in the extradition of the men.

FRISCO CAR MEN ON STRIKE

STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES QUIT, TYING UP TRAFFIC.

Company Will Attempt to Operate with Non-Union Crews, Calling on Authorities for Protection.

San Francisco.—The street car motormen and conductors struck Sunday, tying up the street car system of this city. In lieu of the cars, all sorts of vehicles, from automobiles to express wagons, were used by the public.

The motormen and conductors of the United Railroads early Sunday morning voted to declare a strike after having failed to obtain an eight-hour day and a flat wage of three dollars.

The strikers have been reinforced by the stationary firemen, who demand recognition of their union and an increase of wages from $2.75 to $3.25 per day. It is probable that other allied trades will come to the support of the platform men. There was no disorder, as no attempts were made by the railroad officials to take cars from the barns, but it is expected that an effort to run cars will be made Monday.

President Patrick Calhoun says that the United Railroads company will operate its lines independently of the car men's union and if resisted, will demand from the city and state authorities the full protection guaranteed by the law. The officials of the company have been making elaborate preparations to run cars in the event of a strike and they claim to have several hundred experienced men ready to take the places of the strikers.

In the event of the city and state being unable to provide protection in case of serious trouble, federal assistance may be invoked on the ground that the United Railroads Investment company, of New Jersey, which is the holding corporation of the United Railroads, is a corporation foreign to this state. It is reported that Farley, the noted strike-breaker, is in the city and that he will have charge of the strike-breaking operations.

MEXICAN DAM GIVES WAY.

Two Score Men Engulfed and Many Are Dead.

Chihuahua, Mex.—One of the great walls of the Chuviccar dam gave way Thursday, engulfing nearly 40 men under the enormous weight of masonry and water. Between 15 and 20 of the workmen are dead, 13 are injured and several others unaccounted for. Some of the injured will die.

Meager details of the affair reached here Friday morning, when the judicial authorities and several surgeons departed immediately for the scene.

The disaster is the latest of a large number which have recently claimed nearly 200 victims in this state, and mostly in the neighborhood of Chihuahua. The authorities are making a thorough investigation into the present catastrophe and will severely punish those upon whom they place the blame.

According to the version of the affair which reached here, the men were working on a foundation close to the foot of the main rampart of the dam which had already been constructed. The main wall was weak and gave out under the water pressure. The dam was being put in for irrigation and stock-watering purposes and was a large enterprise. The loss will be heavy. All the victims are Mexicans.

EX-POLICE CHIEF INDICTED.

Comerford, former attorney of the police department; and Detectives J. McGrath and P. J. McNulty.

Collins is charged with mutilating public records, conspiring to violate the civil service law, and other offenses; the others are charged with conspiracy to violate the civil service law, and to do an illegal act in the formulation of the police detail that is said to have collected funds for Dunne's campaign.

A "SUBMARINE TEST" NOW IN PROGRESS.

EXPLOSIONS WRECK A SHIP

FIVE MEN ARE KILLED AND OTHERS SAVED FROM BOAT.

Steamer Westgate Is Destroyed When Cargo of Benzine Blows Up in the Bay of Biscay.

Plymouth, England.—The British steamer Westgate, from Rosario March 24 for the Tyne, arrived here Friday and landed the survivors of the crew of the British tank steamer Silverlip, which was destroyed by explosions of benzine in her cargo Wednesday while passing through the Bay of Biscay.

The Silverlip, Capt. Hocken, which belonged to the Shell Transport and Trading company of London, was on her way home from Singapore. The explosions burst the vessel's decks open and set fire to the ship. The engineer and four firemen were killed and four others of the crew were rescued by the Westgate and brought to this port.

The first blast on the Silverlip occurred in tank No. 4. It damaged the sides of the ship and tore up the deck amidships. She soon became a mass of flames, which towered 70 to 80 feet above the steamer. The fire spread from tank to tank, each advance of the conflagration being marked by deafening explosions. The wreckage from the ship and the sea around here were covered with blazing oil.

The sailors succeeded in launching the steel lifeboats, but many of the men had to jump overboard and swim to reach them. Soon after the crew had taken to the boats the Westgate, which had been attracted by the clouds of smoke, picked up the survivors.

The Silverlip was built at Newcastle in 1903, was of 4,904 tons net register, 470 feet long and about 55 feet beam.

HINDUS SACK INDIAN CITY.

Serious Anti-European Riots at Rawalpindi, in Punjab.

Allahabad, British India.—Serious anti-European riots have occurred at Rawalpindi, in the Punjab. A Hindu mob burned two bungalows, pillaged the mission church, looted the post office, burned a garage and all the motor cars in it, destroyed the plant of a powerhouse and smashed the windows in the houses of many Europeans. Armed police eventually obtained the upper hand and dispersed the rioters. The town is now patrolled by a squadron of the Tenth Hussars.

The outbreak at Rawalpindi is attributed to the influence of well-known agitators who have been making speeches throughout the Punjab and who also are held responsible for the recent outbreak at Lahore.

MARVIN LAD IS BURIED.

Physicians Think He Wandered Away and Died of Exhaustion.

Dover, Del.—The body of Horace Marvin, Jr., which was found on Saturday lying in a pool of water less than half a mile from where he was last seen playing on March 4, was interred Sunday in "Bay Meadow Lawn," on the Marvin farm.

All the little fellow's playmates and fully a thousand neighbors attended the services.

Prior to the funeral a coroner's jury officially identified the body and authorized an autopsy.

There is much to make it appear that the little boy for whom detectives searched so long wandered away and fell exhausted into the pool on the marshes where his body was found. Physicians have decided that the boy did not drown. No marks of violence were found on the body. The stomach was empty and the child may either have been frozen or starved to death. The condition of the stomach indicates, according to the physicians, that the boy suffered privation for at least 40 hours prior to death.

INDIANA PEOPLE IN WESTERN CANADA.

What Shall We Do?—I've Got to Build Granaries.

A letter written to a Canadian Government agent from Tipton, Indiana, is but one of many similar that are in the hands of the Canadian government agents whose privilege it is to offer one hundred and sixty acres of land free, and low railway fares. But here is a copy of the letter:

Tipton, Ind., Nov. 28, 1906.

"At your earnest solicitation a party of us from Tipton left May 15 for Western Canada. Our interviews with you and a careful study of your literature led us to expect great things of your country when we should arrive there, and we were not disappointed. We went prepared to make a careful examination of the country and its resources, and we did so. At early dawn the second morning out of Tipton we awoke in a new world. As far as the eye could reach was an apparently limitless expanse of new sown wheat and prairie grasses. The vivid green of the wheat just beginning to stool out, and the inky blackness of the soil contrasted in a way beautiful to see. An hour or two later we steamed into Winnipeg. Here we found a number of surprises. A hundred thousand souls well housed, with every convenience that goes to make a modern up-to-date city—banks, hotels, newspapers, stores, electric light, street railways, sewerage, waterworks, asphalt pavements, everything. With eyes and ears open we traveled for two thousand miles through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, going out over the Canadian Pacific railway, via Calgary to Edmonton, and returning to Winnipeg over the Canadian Northern railway. In the meantime we made several side trips and stopped off at a number of points where we made drives into the surrounding country. On every hand were evidences of prosperity. The growing wheat, oats, rye, flax, barley, not little patches, but great fields, many of them a square mile in extent, the three, five and sometimes seven-horse teams laying over an inky black ribbon of yellow stubble, generally in furrows straight as gun barrels and at right angles from the roads stretching into the distance, contrasted strangely with our little fields at home. The towns both large and small were doubly conspicuous, made so, first by their newness and second by the towering elevators necessary to hold the immense crops of wheat grown in the immediate neighborhood.

The newness, the thrift, the hustle, the sound of saw and hammer, the tents housing owners of buildings in various stages of completion, the piles of household effects and agricultural implements at the railway stations waiting to be hauled out to the "claims," the occasional steam plow turning its twenty or thirty acres a day, the sod house, the unpainted house of wood, the up-to-date modern residence with large red barn by, all these were seen everywhere we went, an earnest of prosperity and wealth to be. We talked with men and visited their places that four years ago was unbroken prairie. Their houses, barns, implements and live stock were the equal of anything in Tipton County, and why not, when they were raising five, ten and twenty, yes, in one instance, forty thousand bushels of wheat a year. The fact that such large yields of wheat are raised so easily and so surely impressed us very favorably. And when we saw men who four or five years ago commenced there with two or three thousand dollars, and were now as well fixed and making money much easier and many times faster than lots of our acquaintances on Indiana farms fifty years cleared and valued at four times as much, we decided to invest. So we bought in partnership a little over two thousand acres, some of it improved and in wheat.

Before leaving Indiana we agreed that if the opportunities were as great as they were represented to be, that we would buy, and own in partnership a body of land, and leave one of our number to look after and operate it. This we accordingly did.

Just before time to thresh I received a letter from him. "What shall we do?" said he; "I've got to build granaries. There's so much wheat that the railways are just awamped. We can't get cars and the elevators are all full. I never saw anything like it." In reply we wrote, "Good for you. Go ahead and build; your story sounds better than the letters we used to get from our friends in Kansas when they bewailed the fact that the hard wheat had been destroyed by the chinch bugs and the corn by hot winds, and that they must sell the stock for means to live on. Yes, build by all means." And he did, and our wheat put in by a renter made twenty-seven bushels per acre.

Very truly yours,

MUCH WORK AHEAD

IMPORTANT BUSINESS STILL BEFORE LEGISLATURE.

TIME BECOMING BRIEF

Many Measures of Importance Are to Be Acted Upon Before Adjournment—Many Weeks of Time Wasted.

Springfield.—After four months of dawdling, the legislature now awakes to the fact that, although the closing days are upon it, nearly all the really important business still remains to be finished. The lawmakers are anxious to adjourn, but work is stacked up so high that only a frantic burst of speed, with the legislative machinery working from early morning until night, will clear up the work in a week.

In his message Gov. Deneen cautioned against leaving everything for a grand eleventh hour rush, but the admonition fell on deaf ears. There were two months of loafing and lounging in committees, then came a full month in which the April elections held legislative activity in suspense. Another month of talking and bickering and debating, with an occasional bill slipping through, but the weighty ones still slugging in the hopper, and now the framers of laws awake to the chilling fact that, with the time of departure at hand, the bulky legislation still remains to be handled.

Special Session Not Likely.

The prospects of a special session has been diminished in proportion as the willingness of the assembly to act on administration measures has increased. While the legislative dignity has not been injured considerable concessions have been proposed on several bills which were in the list of "provocations." In the house appropriations committee the omnibus improvement bill for charitable institutions, which the senate framed up against the state board of charities and which it passed in that shape, was amended to add $202,000 to the allotments of the institutions which had suffered most in the upper house. Even this concession gives the state board only one-fifth of what it lost when the senate cut its bill, but it will enable the board to carry out many of its plans which could not have been put in effect otherwise. The house will pass the bill with these amendments, and then it will go to a conference between the house and senate committees. If the senate in the end proves willing to make the concessions it is probable that the governor will accept the amended bill.

Local Option Questions.

Prospects that the Republicans would develop a practically solid front for the Berry local option bill in the house have been discussed. Some of the party leaders outside of the legislature have pointed out that as the Berry bill does not affect Chicago, there are many Republican members from Cook county who not only can afford to support it but will receive positive political benefit from such support.

It is suggested that if the Republican party fails to give this state the bill desired the prohibitionists may be expected to cut deeply into the Republican pluralities of many districts two years hence.

The steering committee named at the local option caucus has evolved a plan of campaign. A break between Douglas Patterson, minority leader, and Lee O. Browne, chairman of the Democratic steering committee, over an insurance bill, and again over the dance hall bill, gave rise to talk that Patterson and a following he could control might be taken from the local option opposition.

Victory for Bankers.

Illinois bankers and lawyers who have been working for the passage of the bill for a uniform law of negotiable instruments at Springfield, were gratified to learn that the bill had been passed by the house. It passed the senate several days ago, and Gov. Deneen is expected to sign it. The bill was drafted by the uniform law commission, and its provisions are endorsed by the American Bar association and the Illinois Bankers' association.

Smulski Keeps His Pledge.

In fulfillment of his pledge, made before election, to turn into the treasury all money received from the banks as interest on state funds deposited, State Treasurer Smulski paid over $13,314 interest from January 20, the day he took possession of the treasurer's office, to April 1.

Changes Two-Cent Fare Bill.

Senator Berry has amended his two-cent fare bill so as to make it possible for roads to sell tickets at three cents a mile when they are not purchased within 30 minutes of the departure of trains.

Anti-Scalping Bill Advanced.

Senate bill 535, the anti-ticket scalping measure, was advanced to third reading. House bill 442, appropriating $2,500 a year for the use of the Illinois Dairyman's association, also was sent to third reading.

The following bills were passed: Senate bill 304, revising the farm drainage act.

House bill 848, providing for a state grain inspector, requiring state licensing of warehouses and giving the railroad and warehouse commission supervision of the same.

Advance Two-Cent Fare Bill.

The house two-cent railroad fare bill as amended by the senate was advanced to third reading and made a special order on its passage for May 7. The measure, as changed, provides for a flat two-cent rate and gives conductors the right to exact three cents a mile from passengers who fail to purchase a ticket. The original house measure was an amendment to the extortion act and as changed by the senators it is made a separate act, because the constitutionality of the bill as passed by the house was questioned. The opinion prevails that the senate will send the bill to the house on the 7th after final passage for concurrence in the amendment. This will be the final act in the legislative process. It is understood the house leaders have agreed to accept the bill as amended by the senate. After the house concurs the bill will then be sent to Gov. Deneen for his approval.

Senate Remains Firm.

The much-discussed appropriations bill controversy was intensified when the senate defeated an effort to amend the omnibus measure carrying the sums appropriated for the various state offices. The strike came over the money allowed the state civil service commission which it is asserted is practically put out of business by the meager sum of $10,500 given in the original amount asked, $20,000, was defeated by a vote of 26 to 8.

A clean $1,000,000 is cut from the requests made for ordinary expenses and improvements at the state university. Chicago received courteous treatment, as the senate committee on appropriations allowed the sum of $386,000 for the purpose of the university taking over the building of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Chicago.

Two House Bills Passed.

House bill 746, prohibiting warehouse men from delivering or grain inspectors from permitting delivery of grain from warehouses without notice from warehouse registrar that warehouse receipts have been registered for cancellation.

House bill 411, establishing a board of commissioners of uniform state laws for the promotion of uniformity of legislation with other states and the United States.

Status of Legislation.

A few important measures have been passed, among them the bills appropriating $150,000 for the prosecution of the Illinois Central suits and the outer driveway bill for the beautification of Chicago. Chicago's charter still waits action, as do nearly all the heavy-weight measures, which, in the prospectus, were to have formed the contribution of the forty-fifth general assembly to the statute books.

Deposit Bill Passes.

One of the bills that has been urged by Gov. Deneen, that creating a state deposit board for the loaning of public funds for the benefit of the state, was passed by the senate, 26 to 9, just the necessary majority. The bill was introduced early in the session and after having been amended a number of times was advanced to third reading, where it has remained until called up by Senator Bredt.

Pure Food Bill Mangled.

After a long and noisy struggle the house Friday night adopted the amended substitute for the pure food bill but in a form so changed that its sponsor, Judge Lindly, will hardly recognize it when he sees it in cold print. Taking advantage of the fact that they were for the time being in the majority, the Democratic members of the house forced the adoption of amendments to the bill.

Perceive Favor to Standard Oil.

House bill 379 stirred up trouble. Charges that the bill was drawn in the interests of the Standard Oil company were made, and after a debate the matter went over to permit investigation of the subject. The bill ostensibly is designed to prohibit waste of natural gas, requires secure piping of all oil and gas and prohibits the pumping of wells to increase the flow.

Deneen Appeals for Russia.

An appeal for aid for the starving millions in Russia from the people of Illinois was issued by Gov. Deneen in a proclamation which recites the failure of crops in the empire and urging contributions to the Russian famine relief committee, of which Charles L. Hutchinson, president of the Corn Exchange National bank, the Rockery, Chicago, is chairman.

"Sub" Pure-Food Bill Is In.

The substitute pure-food bill over which Cleo J. Lindley and J. Hanby Jones, state food commissioner, have been working, was introduced in the house by Mr. Lindly on a motion to strike out all after the enacting clause in the bill now before the house (H. B. 844) and inserting the bill prepared by him. The main features of the new bill are known.

Pure-Food Bill Hit.

Friends of the pure-food bill say it will be useless to enact it into law should the $35,520 given this department in the senate bill remain at this figure. The pure-food commission asked for $217,800. The compromise bill on this subject reported to the house gives the house committee on appropriations a chance to add something respectable to the means available for the enforcement of the proposed food law. The new bill on the subject leaves the questions of an appropriation to the house committee.

SEEDING COMMENCED IN WESTERN CANADA.

The Prospects for a Large Acreage to Be Sown in Wheat.

St. Paul, April 24, 1907.—Word has been received at the office of the Canadian Government in St. Paul that seeding has commenced at various points throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The heavy snowfall during the past winter has left the ground in splendid shape for successful seeding operations. The fine weather of the past few days has taken much of the frost out of the ground and during next week there will scarcely be a district in which the seeder is not being operated. The most optimistic conditions exist and in all districts the farmers are busy getting things in shape. There will be a very large acreage sown in spring wheat, oats and barley. At many points throughout the three provinces the newcomers are busy unloading their stock and effects, working night and day in order to get on their farms and become active agencies in the effort to make the year 1907 the banner year in grain producing in Western Canada. As compared with districts many hundred miles further south than this, it will be seen that Western Canada ranks amongst the first in the line of seeding operations for the present year. It is safe to say that farmers who get in their crop before the 20th or 24th of May, will receive magnificent returns. A number of those coming in this spring, who had not their land prepared last fall, will break up enough land to get in a crop of oats and barley and probably some flax. This, together with the vegetables they will plant, will give them ample food for themselves and stock during the coming summer and winter. These early seeding operations are not confined to one district, but are spread over a country 900 miles long by 400 miles wide.

The agents of the Canadian Government, located at different points throughout the United States, are busy giving information regarding the many new districts that are being made available for settlers. Low railway rates, information and literature are given on application to the agent, whose name appears in advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

The Estimable Family.

"Reynolds," said Millionaire Banks to his valet, "go 'round to the house of that little girl whom I ran down with the auto this morning and extend to the family my sincere regrets and sympathy. Also give them this $50 bill. I understand that they are very poor and in want."

Accordingly the valet obeyed. When he returned his master met him at the door.

"Well, Reynolds?" "The father wished me to say, sir, that he hoped you wouldn't take the affair too much to heart. As for the family, they all feel very grateful to you, sir, and couldn't bring themselves to accept your very kind offer."

"A most estimable family! Yet I wonder why they didn't accept the money?"

"The father said such matters should be arranged through his lawyer, sir."—Judge.

No Criticism to Make.

Mrs. Hilda Williams, the English society leader, talked at a dance in New York about the fashion of riding astride that has taken hold of English equestriennes.

"Some of our young women," said Mrs. Williams, "dress out and out like men. They wear a long coat cut like a hunting coat, a cap, riding breeches and top boots. It is a handsome costume and it is not immodest, but undoubtedly it attracts a good deal of attention. They have been telling in London lately a story about an English girl who has adopted this riding rig. Pulling up her horse one afternoon she said to an artisan who was passing: 'Can you tell me if this is the way to Wareham?'"

FRIENDS HELP

St. Paul Park Incident.

"After drinking coffee for breakfast I always felt languid and dull, having no ambition to get to my morning duties. Then in about an hour or so a weak, nervous derangement of the heart and stomach would come over me with such force I would frequently have to lie down."

"At other times I had severe headaches; stomach finally became affected and digestion so impaired that I had serious chronic dyspepsia and constipation. A lady, for many years State President of the W. O. T. U., told me she had been greatly benefited by quinine coffee and using Postum Food Coffee; she was troubled for years with asthma. She said it was no cross to quit coffee when she found she could have as delicious an article as Postum."

"Another lady, who had been troubled with chronic dyspepsia for years, found immediate relief on ceasing coffee and beginning Postum twice a day. She was wholly cured. Still another friend told me that Postum Food Coffee was a Godsend to her, her heart trouble having been relieved after leaving off coffee and taking Postum."

"So many such cases came to my notice that I concluded coffee was the cause of my trouble and I quit and took up Postum. I am more than pleased to say that my days of trouble have disappeared. I am well and happy. 'There's a Reason.' Read 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkgs.

A Fish Story.

"Trout protection! Nonsense!" said a gunner of local eminence. "Trout are amply able to protect themselves. Look at their depredations among ducks, for example, and you will agree with me that it's the birds that need protection. It's a common thing for a trout to jump from the water, seize a duck by the neck, drag the unfortunate fowl into the depths sufficiently to leave its feet sticking in the air, where it can get no purchase upon the universe, and thus drown it. Then the trout picks the feathers from the bird, eats it at its leisure and swims away out of the jurisdiction of the courts. Are there any fishermen? None? Too bad. This would be a match for one of their fish stories."

FAMILY'S SKIN TROUBLES.

Eczema, Heat Rash, and Scalp Affections Afflict Different Members, But Cuticura Cures Them.

"My wife had eczema for five or six years. It was on her face and would come and go. We thought we would give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. We did so and she has never had a sign of eczema for four years. I myself used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment some time ago for falling hair. I now have a very heavy head of hair. We used Cuticura Remedies for our baby, who was nearly bald when young. She has very nice hair now. She is very fleshy, and we had so much trouble with heat that we would bathe her with Cuticura Soap and then apply Cuticura Ointment, it would dry the heat up so much quicker than anything else. Mr. H. B. Springmire, 323 So. Capitol Street, Iowa City, Ia., July 18, 1905, and Sept. 16, 1906."

Importance of Sleep.

We should get up well every morning. If we do not, we are certain gradually to run behind in our physical bank account. This proves that sleeping is quite as important as eating. The luxury of sound sleep is one of the greatest means given to a man or beast for restoring and invigorating the whole system. No one should allow business or anything else to curtail this luxury, and parents should promote it in children, instead of drumming them out of bed early.—Homeopathic Envoys.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Reports from the monster British battleship Dreadnaught, which has just completed a cruise to the West Indies are by no means the most favorable. They are of particular interest to this country just now because this government is about embarking on the perilous task of duplicating the gigantic fighting machine and perhaps going her one better. The trouble seems to lie chiefly in the use of the steam turbine as a marine engine. Now this has been an interesting subject among engineers and there has been a good deal of criticism because this government has been slow to take up the turbine idea in warship construction. Many of the laity have held that we were slow and a decade behind foreign governments in naval construction. But the reports of the turbine experiment, for it is an experiment, in a big battleship are not encouraging. Letters from the officers and men of the Dreadnaught say while she is a fast fair weather ship, she is extravagantly wasteful of coal at slow speeds, that she cannot maneuver at anything less than a racing gait, and that her stokehold is impossible to live in at any time. All the technical details of the case matter but little to the public. The important fact is that the British government, much against its will perhaps, has given us an object lesson at an expense of several million dollars, for all of which when it comes to constructing our 20,000 ton battleships, we ought to be duly thankful.

Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture, has been going among the colleges and telling of the things his department has done and is doing for the farmer, chief among them the investigation it has been making of the possibilities of alcohol as a source of light, heat and power. The Secretary may be pardoned perhaps for tooting a little on his own trumpet. He has developed the department of Agriculture into one of the most important departments of the government because it deals with so many subjects that come closely in touch with the daily life of the people. He is enthusiastic about the possibilities of alcohol and his enthusiasm is worthy of consideration because of the things he has accomplished in the past. He points out that the end of the wood supply as fuel is more than in sight and the end of the coal supply does not need an opera glass to distinguish it. But alcohol he holds can and will be produced by the farmer from his surplus crops and from crops raised especially for the purpose. He says that without impoverishing the farms, for alcohol is not a fertilizer, the farmers can produce enough alcohol to ward off cold and starvation from the country for an indefinite period. All of this is cheering news for the farmer and equally good for the people at large.

While there is so much speculation over the coming Republican nominee of President, might it not be worth while for the Republican party if it is really in earnest, to give some pledge in the nomination as well as in the platform that it really intends to keep one of the essential pledges on which it went into office last term, namely the revision of the tariff. If the Democratic party comes into power, there will be no question but what the tariff will get pretty thoroughly revised and particularly in the spots where it most needs revision, the onerous and unnecessary burden that is placed on the manufacturers that might compete from abroad with the fastest trust hogs at the public trough. But the Republican party is also pledged to tariff revision and for three years it has flirted with the question at a safe long range. There is but one thing for it to do if it wishes to retain some measure of public confidence, and that is to nominate some man either at the head or the tail of the ticket who is an avowed tariff revisionist and in whose word the people would have more faith than in the abstract promises of the party.

For the first time since its creation, the Waterways Commission met this week in Washington and is now engaged in mapping out plans for a comprehensive system of waterways and a general system of river control under federal supervision akin in many ways to the federal system of irrigation now being put into practice in the west. It is an immense work and one of far reaching importance. An encouraging fact in connection with it is that the commission is trying to settle on a general plan of development free from any taint of political influence. And the best guarantee that such a system eventually will be worked out is to be found in the fact that the men of the commission almost without exception are big enough and honest enough to be beyond the reach of petty local or political consideration.

Petitions are being circulated throughout McHenry county asking the board of supervisors to make a liberal appropriation to aid in the erection of a county soldiers monument at Woodstock, or at some other central point in the county.

The good book says, "Give to everyone that asketh thee," but that doesn't mean to give a drunkard money to buy whiskey; it doesn't mean to give a baby a hammer and a looking glass because he asks for it, and it doesn't mean that we should give to professional beggars who travel from town to town.

While fishing in the Fox River near Elgin one day last week Stephen Boas hooked a bundle which was found to contain the bodies of three infants. The coroner is of the opinion that the bundle was hurled from some passing train. The clothing was of fine quality but bore no marks.

The horses in Sterling are affected with a disease similar to pneumonia, and many of them are dying. If taken in hand at the start a cure can be effected, but if let to run nothing can be done to relieve the animal. The veterinary surgeons claim that the disease is catching and that it is spreading at a lively rate.

Wisconsin seems to be somewhat in advance of Illinois in some matters and now Burlington comes forth with the statement that on Monday of last week John Reith a fourteen year old boy was captured for horse stealing. This certainly seems as though he were starting out on a career rather early in life.

August Smith was buried under tons of sand and gravel at the Cary gravel pit on Thursday of week. Before fellow workmen could extricate him life was extinct. A similar accident occurred but a few days previous to two other workmen, but luckily they escaped without serious injury. As a result of these accidents several of the men employed at the pits have thrown up their jobs.

An attempt was made to wreck the 9:15 A. & N. W. passenger train near Racine Wednesday evening of last week, by wedging a heavy oak railroad tie between the rails near a switch. The obstruction was struck by a slow moving freight train which preceded the passenger train. The two heavy freight engines were thrown off the track. Had the fast passenger train hit the obstruction the loss of life would probably have been large.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the stomach, heart or kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means stomach weakness, always. And the heart, and kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by all dealers.

Miss Deedie Tiffany has been appointed as agent here and anyone wishing to donate may do so by handing her the money.

One of the officials of the Wisconsin Central railroad was here Monday on a tour of inspection and recommended that the depot be moved north of its present site and placed at the stock yard, and that a new and more commodious one be erected in its place. Whether this will be done or not remains to be seen.

During the past few days a rumor has been current that a confession has been made by a party who confessed to the murder of Earl Eldredge, the game warden who lost his life in the early part of February. It is a story that many are telling, but few are believing, and one that is to highly improbable to be easily credited. And as the matter is being sifted down it develops that there is no grounds whatever for the story, and the whole thing is merely a fabrication.

The Woodmen of the World in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois have started a crusade for new members, through which they hope to add 2000 members to their order in the two states. This immense class will be adopted at one meeting which will be held in Chicago and to which special trains will be run from all directions. Some little misunderstanding in regard to the matter has been current in this locality, many persons having wrongly gotten the idea that it is the Modern Woodmen of America who are making the attempt.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CH NEWS.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.

A Great, Good Charity.

The latest charitable enterprise of Helen Gould is notable not only in itself, but for its suggestion of a way in which the city slums may be measurably cleared of a large class of persons who, helpless there, might in a different environment become industrious and independent. Miss Gould has purchased near Greeley, in Colorado, a tract of 100,000 acres. She is ready to expend $100,000 for implements, seed and fencing. The land is to be sold in small tracts, and the buyers who prove themselves worthy will be allowed easy terms of payment. They will have the advantage of instruction, with access to a library, and the sanitation of the tract will be supervised by skilled and practical directors. Early in the operation the shiftless will be weeded out. No better choice of location could have been made. The town of Greeley was settled many years ago by colonists from the east inspired by the advice of Horace Greeley. From the beginning, says Philadelphia Ledger, it has been conducted in as orderly a fashion as any New England village. No liquor has ever been sold there; no rough characters ever found it congenial. It has developed into a prosperous and beautiful little city of well-kept streets and neat and luxurious homes. It is in the midst of a vast stretch of fertile land adapted to grains and fruits, and absolutely unequalled for the quality and yield of its potatoes.

A temperance crusade in England seems to have taken on much the same aspect as many famous recent court trials, inasmuch as it is largely a matter of expert opinion. The temperance leaders were somewhat set back by a manifesto published in The London Lancet, the great medical publication of England, in which 16 eminent professors and practitioners testified, over their own names, that alcohol has valuable qualities as food and medicine, giving that article a strong recommendation for usefulness and merit. Now the temperance men are trying to get a testimonial to the opposite effect from the same or a larger number of equally prominent professionals. But would not such a procedure leave the matter just about where it was before, asks the Troy Times, with the public compelled to make up its mind solely on its own construction of testimony made additionally confusing because doctors of such standing so utterly disagree? And where does moral suasion come in?

Good Housekeeping.

There is no preservative of love in married life so sure as good housekeeping; and there is no profession so absorbing, and demanding preparation and skill, as that of the housewife. When a young woman marries she as really enters upon the practice of a life profession as does a young man when he is admitted to the bar, or graduates a physician, after three or four years spent in preparation. The man is willing to equip himself fully for his part of the partnership. Does it seem businesslike and good faith, asks New York Weekly, for a woman to take the place of the second partner with a most indifferent training, or none at all?

Columbia university, New York, is to have a mathematical museum, the nucleus of which will be the collection of mathematical models purchased for the university by ex-President Seth Low at the world's Columbian exposition in Chicago in 1893 and presented by him to the department of mathematics. Among other things will be a collection of models constructed by Dr. Martin Schilling of Halle, Germany, and also one belonging to Prof. Wehner of Darmstadt and a set of mathematical instruments from the institute of Dr. G. Coradi of Zurich.

The new post office building in the City of Mexico is the first government building in Mexico of any architectural design worthy of the name. It is of fireproof construction, its frame being the first steel frame to go up in the city. Architecturally the new post office is unexcelled by any building in the country, and as a thing of real beauty surpasses, in the opinion of many, even the congressional library at Washington. It is far superior to any office building owned by the United States government.

Mr. Schwab's program immensely simplifies the situation. All we have to do is to hustle right hard and we'll catch up with all that overcapitalization. But, meantime, haven't some resourceful financiers got away with our money?

The war department has ordered an army officer to ride horseback from Portland, Ore., to New York. Perhaps this is a gentle hint to the transcontinental railroads which send in such lengthy accident reports.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COAST," "THE WEAK STRAND," "THE PRIMEVAL SAVAGE," "THE STRAINED TO CLOSE ROUND," "THE SLENDER WHITE THROAT," "AND CRUSH AND CRUSH."

She gazed at me without flinching. "And I suppose," she said satirically, "you wonder why I—why you are repellent to me. Haven't you learned that, though I may have been made in to a moral coward, I'm not a physical coward? Don't bully and threaten. It's useless."

I put my hand strongly on her shoulder—taunts and jeers do not turn me aside. "What did you mean?" I repeated.

"Take your hand off me," she commanded.

"What did you mean?" I repeated sternly. "Don't be afraid to answer."

She was very young—so the taunt stung her. "I was about to tell you," said she, "when you began to make it impossible."

I took advantage of this to extricate myself from the awkward position in which she had put me—I took my hand from her shoulder.

"I am going to leave," she announced.

"You forgot that you are my wife," said I.

"I am not your wife," was her answer, and if she had not looked so childlike, there in the moonlight all in white, I could not have held myself in check, so insolent was the tone and so helpless of ever being able to win her did she make me feel.

"You are my wife and you will stay here with me," I reiterated, my brain on fire.

"I am my own, and I shall go where I please, and do what I please," was her contemptuous retort. "Why won't you be reasonable? Why won't you see how utterly unsuited we are? I don't ask you to be a gentleman—but just a man, and be ashamed even to wish to detain a woman against her will."

I drew up a chair so close to her that to retreat, she was forced to sit in the broad window-seat. Then I seated myself. "By all means, let us be reasonable," said I. "Now, let me explain my position. I have heard you and your friends discussing the views of marriage you've just been expressing. Their views may be right, maybe more civilized, more 'advanced' than mine. No matter. They are not mine. I hold by the old standards—and you are my wife—mine. Do you understand?" All this as tranquilly as if we were discussing fair weather. "And you will live up to the obligation which the marriage service has put upon you."

She might have been a marble statue pedestaled in that window seat. "You married me of your own free will—for you could have protested to the preacher and he would have sustained you. You tacitly put certain conditions on our marriage. I assented to them. I have respected them. I shall continue to respect them. But—when you married me, you didn't marry a dawdling dude chattering 'advanced ideas' with his head full of liberalism. You married a man. And that man is your husband."

I waited, but she made no comment—not even by gesture or movement. She simply sat, her hands interlaced in her lap, her eyes straight upon mine.

"You say let us be reasonable," I went on. "Well, let us be reasonable. There may come a time when woman can be free and independent, but that time is a long way off yet. The world is organized on the basis of every woman's having a protector—a husband, unless she remains in the home of some of her blood-relations. There may be women strong enough to set the world at defiance. But you are not one of them—and you know it. You have shown it to yourself again and again in the last forty-eight hours. Your bringing-up has kept you a child in real knowledge of real life, as distinguished from life in that fashionable hothouse. If you tried to assert your so-called independence, you would be the easy prey of a scoundrel or scoundrels. When I, who have lived in the thick of the fight all my life, who have learned by many a surprise and defeat never to sleep except with the sword and gun in hand, and one eye open—when I have been trapped as Roebuck and Langdon have just trapped me—what chance would a woman like you have?"

She did not answer or change expression.

"Is what I say reasonable or unreasonable?" I asked gently.

"Reasonable—from your standpoint," she said.

She gazed into the moonlight, up into the sky. And at the look in her face, the primeval savage in me strained to close round that slender white throat of hers and crush and crush until it had killed in her the thought of that other man which was transforming her from marble to flesh that glowed and blood that surged. I pushed back my chair with a sudden noise; by the way she trembled I guessed how tense her nerves must be. I rose and in a fairly calm tone, said: "We understand each other."

"Yes," she answered. "As before." I ignored this. "Think it over, Anita," I urged—she seemed to me so like a sweet, spoiled child again. I longed to go straight at her about that other man. I stood for a moment with Tom Langdon's name on my lips, but I could not trust myself. I went away to my own rooms.

I thrust thoughts of her from my mind. I spent the night gnawing upon the ropes with which Mowbray Langdon and Roebuck had bound me, hand and foot. I now say they were ropes of steel—and it had long been broad day before I found that weak strand which is in every rope of human make.

THE WEAK STRAND.

No sane creature, not even a sane bulldog, will fight simply from love of fighting. When a man is attacked, he may be sure he has excited either fear or cupidity, or both. As far as I could see, it was absurd that cupidity was inciting Langdon and Roebuck against me. I hadn't enough to tempt me. Thus, I was forced to conclude that I must possess a strength of which I was unaware, and which stirred even Roebuck's fears. But what could it be?

THE PRIMEVAL SAVAGE IN ME STRAINED TO CLOSE ROUND THAT SLENDER WHITE THROAT AND CRUSH AND CRUSH.

Besides Langdon and Roebuck and me there were six principals in the proposed Coal combine, three of them richer and more influential in finance than even Langdon, all of them except possibly Dykeman, the lawyer, or navigating officer of the combine, more formidable figures than I. Yet none of these men was being assailed. "Why am I singled out?" I asked myself, and I felt that if I could answer, I should find I had the means wholly or partly to defeat them. But I could not explain to my satisfaction even Langdon's activities against me. I felt that Anita was somehow, in part at least, the cause; but, even so, how had he succeeded in convincing Roebuck that I must be clipped and plucked into a groundling?

"It must have something to do with the Manasquale mines," I decided. "I thought I had given over my control of them, but somehow I must still have a control that makes me too powerful for Roebuck to be at ease so long as I am afoot and armed." And I resolved to take my lawyers and search the whole Manasquale transaction—to explore it, from attic to underneath the cellar flooring.

"We'll go through it," said I, "like forefathers through a ship's hold." As I was finishing breakfast, Anita came in. She had evidently slept well, and I regarded that as ominous. At her age, a crisis means little sleep until a decision has been reached. I rose, but her manner warned me not to advance and try to shake hands with her.

"I have asked Alva to stop with me here for a few days," she said formally.

"Alva!" said I, much surprised. She had not asked one of her own friends; she had asked a girl she had met less than two days before, and that girl my partner's daughter.

"She was here yesterday morning," Anita explained. "And I now wondered how much Alva there was in Anita's firm stand against her parents."

"Why don't you take her down to our place on Long Island?" said I, most carefully concealing my delight—for Alva near her meant a friend of mine and an advocate and example of real womanhood near her. "Everything's ready for you there and I'm going to be busy the next few days—busy day and night."

She reflected. "Very well," she assented presently. And she gave me a puzzled glance she thought I did not see—as if she were wondering whether the enemy was not hiding now and deeper guile under an apparently harmless suggestion.

"Then I'll not see you again for several days," said I, most businesslike. "If you want anything, there will be Monson out at the stables where he can't annoy you. Or you can get me on the 'long distance.' Good-by. Good luck."

And I nodded carelessly and friendly to her, and went away, enjoying the pleasure of having startled her into visible astonishment. "There's a better game than icy hostility, you very young, young lady," said I to myself, "and that game is friendly indifference."

Alva would be with her. So she was secure for the present and my mind was free for "finance."

At that time the two most powerful men in finance were Galloway and Roebuck. In Spain I once saw a fight between a bull and a tiger—or, polyping the coal, despite Roebuck's earnest assurances to Galloway that the combine was purely defensive, and was really concerned only with the question of dividends and interest upon manufacturing enterprises, could not but be uneasy.

Before I rose that morning I had a tentative plan for stirring him to action. I was elaborating it on the way down town in my electric. It shows how badly Anita was crippling my brain, that not until I was almost at my office did it occur to me: "That was a tremendous luxury Roebuck indulged his conscience in last night. It isn't like him to forewarn a man, even when he's sure he can't escape. Though his prayers were, hot in his mouth, still, it's strange he didn't try to fool me. In fact, it's suspicious. In fact—"

Suspicious? The instant the idea was fairly before my mind, I knew I had let his canting fool me once more. I entered my offices, feeling that the blow had already fallen; and I was surprised, but not relieved, when I found everything calm. "But fall it will within an hour or so—before I can move to avert it," said I to myself.

And fall it did. At eleven o'clock, just as I was setting out to make my first move toward heating old Galloway's heels for the war-path, Joe came in with the news: "A general lock-out's declared in the coal regions. The operators have stolen a march on the men who, so they allege, were secretly getting ready to strike. By night every coal road will be tied up and every mine shut down."

Joe knew our coal interests were heavy, but he did not dream his news meant that before the day was over we would be bankrupt and not able to pay fifteen cents on the dollar. However, he knew enough to throw him into a fever of fright. He watched my calmness with terror. "Coal stocks are dropping like a thermometer in a cold wave," he said, like a fireman at a sleeper in a burning house.

"Naturally," said I, unruffled, apparently. "What can we do about it?"

"We must do something!" he exclaimed.

"Yes, we must," I admitted. "For instance, we must keep cool, especially when two or three dozen people are watching us. Also, you must attend to your usual routine." "What are you going to do?" he cried. "For God's sake, Matt, don't keep me in suspense!"

"Go to your desk," I commanded. And he quivered down and went. I hadn't been schooling him in the fire-drill for fifteen years in vain.

I went up the street and into the great banking and brokerage house of Galloway and Company. I made my way through the small army of guards, behind which the old beast of prey was entrenched, and into his private den. There he sat, at a small, plain table, in the middle of the room without any article of furniture in it but his table and his chair. On the table was a small inkstand, perfectly clean, a steel pen equally clean, on the rest attached to it. And that was all—not a letter, not a scrap of paper, not a sign of work or of intention to work. It might have been the desk of a man who did nothing; in fact, it was the desk of a man who had so much to do that his only hope of escape from being overwhelmed was to despatch and clear away each matter the instant it was presented to him. Many things could be read from the powerful form, bolt upright in that stiff chair, and from the cynical, masterful old face. But to me the chief quality there revealed was that quality of qualities, decision—the great power a man can have, except only courage. And old James Galloway had both.

He pierced me with his blue eyes, keen as a youth's, though his face was seamed with scars of seventy tumultuous years. He extended toward me over the table his broad, stubby white hand—the hand of a builder, of a constructive genius. "How are you, Blacklock?" said he. "What can I do for you?" He just touched my hand before dropping it, and resumed that idol-like pose. But although there was only repose and deliberation in his manner, and not a suggestion of haste, I, like every one who came into that room and that presence, had a sense of an interminable procession behind me, a procession of men who must be seen by this master-mover that they might submit important and pressing affairs to him for decision. It was unnecessary for him to tell any one to be brief and pointed.

"I shall have to go to the wall today," said I, taking a paper from my pocket, "unless you save me. Here is a statement of my assets and liabilities. I call to your attention my Coal holdings. I was one of the eight men whom Roebuck got round him for the new combine—it is a secret, but I assume you know all about it."

He laid the paper before him, put on his nose-glasses and looked at it. (To be Continued.)

Didn't Hurt.

"The ladies of our congregation," said the minister's little boy, "are very fond of me. A good many of 'em gave me some slippers on his birthday."

"I thought your pa always used a slipper to spank you with."

"That's just it. The slippers the ladies gave him are the soft kind that's made out of wool."

TORNADO IN TEXAS

SEVERAL TOWNS ARE WIPED OUT OF EXISTENCE.

LOSS OF LIFE IS SMALL

Many Persons Suffer Severe Injuries—Wires Are Blown Down and Details Are Scanty.

Fort Worth, Tex.—A storm of wind and rain which was general throughout a considerable area in northern Texas Monday and which at some places assumed the proportions of a tornado, according to meager reports received here resulted in the loss of at least three lives, the injury of many other persons and great damage to property and crops.

Several villages were wiped out, but because of the prostration of both telegraph and telephone wires, details are almost impossible to obtain.

At Deport, one of the largest villages in Lamar county, 20 miles from Paris, the storm passed northeast, cutting a path about 100 yards wide. The business part of the town was not touched, the damage being in the residential district.

At the village of Antioch, or Pleasant Grove, as it is also called, the whole village was practically destroyed. This is in the tornado belt and most of the houses are provided with storm cellars. To this fact is due the escape of a number of those who were caught almost in the path of the storm. The home of William Lemmons was destroyed, entailing a loss of about $10,000.

The renter of the place named Barzil, whose family consisted of himself and seven children, saw the storm coming and made a run for the cellar at the Lemmons home. Barzil was caught by the wind before he could reach shelter and crushed by flying debris. Five of the children reached the cellar in safety, but Mrs. Barzil and two of the children were fearfully injured and fears are entertained for their recovery.

The home of James Ferguson was destroyed and Mrs. Ferguson was dangerously hurt by flying debris. Ben Pogue and his wife were badly hurt when their home was blown down, but it is thought they may recover. Mrs. Sid Lackey was hurt and will probably die.

The village of Birthwright was destroyed and it was known that at least one death occurred there and it is said one person was fatally hurt.

BIG STRIKE IN ORIZABA.

Operatives in Textile Mills Out—Ready for an Outbreak.

Orizaba, Mexico.—Two thousand operatives of the Rio Blanco textile mills and 1,000 from the mills at Nogales are on strike and the streets are thronged with excited and restless men ready for an outbreak, but they are held in check by a large force of rurales. The trouble in the Rio Blanco mills was due, so the men charge, to the fact that they were required to do a large amount of extra work for which they were not paid and in the mills at Nogales one of the men engaged in a fight with a fellow employee for which he was arrested and discharged from the mills. His fellow workers demanded his reinstatement and when the demand was refused they went on strike.

BROOKLYN STRIKERS VIOLENT.

Sugar Trust Employees Attack Men Who Are Still Working.

New York.—A strike of 350 laborers in the Havemeyer Sugar Refining company's plant in Brooklyn, Monday, was attended with some disturbance which the police reserves were called upon to quell. The men left their work in a body in the forenoon demanding an increase in wages from 15 to 18 cents an hour. They waited about the doors of the refinery until the noon hour. When the other employees of the refinery attempted to leave the buildings the strikers attacked them and small riots ensued. The police reserves from one station were unable to disperse the angry strikers and help was summoned from three other stations before they were driven off.

Three Children Burn to Death.

Soult Ste. Marie, Mich.—Three children named Dominique were burned to death in their home at Blind River, Monday. Their mother, a widow, built a big fire in the heating stove and then went to a neighbor's, leaving the children alone in the house.
